The day starts with breakfast while sailing towards Bassaw, an authentic fishing village along the Nile. This stop offers a rare opportunity for genuine, non-commercial interaction with a local community that remains largely untouched by mass tourism. You can even try traditional fishing methods used since ancient times. After a local-inspired lunch, the Lazuli Dahabiya continues to Edfu for a visit to the Temple of Horus, the most completely preserved Egyptian temple and a masterpiece of Pharaonic architecture. After witnessing its towering pylons and grand halls, the vessel will moor at El Hegz for a comfortable and peaceful overnight stay, complemented by a farewell dinner on board.
