Why You Will Love This Trip

A trip to Kom Ombo and Edfu is the ultimate way to witness the architectural splendors and divine legends of Upper Egypt. Curated by Bastet Travel, this 10-hour private expedition departs from Aswan to uncover two of the most significant and well-preserved religious sites on the banks of the Nile. This isn't just a standard sightseeing excursion; it is a deep dive into the Ptolemaic era's mystery, where you move from the unique dual sanctuary of the crocodile god to the massive, soaring pylons of the falcon god. By choosing our private trip to Kom Ombo, you bypass the crowds of the cruise ships, enjoying the undivided attention of a professional Egyptologist and the comfort of a deluxe air-conditioned vehicle. From the rare medical reliefs at Kom Ombo to the dramatic "Myth of Contending" at Edfu, every moment is optimized for those who seek high-quality exploration, adventure, and academic depth.

- Dual Divinity: A private visit to the Temple of Kom Ombo, the only dual temple in Egypt.
- Archaeological Wonder: An exploration of the Temple of Horus in Edfu, Egypt's best-preserved Ptolemaic monument.
- Unique Collections: Admission to the Crocodile Museum to see ancient mummified reptiles.
- All-Inclusive Comfort: Includes hotel transfers, a quality local lunch, and free bottled water and soft drinks.
- Expert Narratives: Led by a professional English-speaking Egyptologist who uncovers hidden stories behind the hieroglyphs.

Professional Trip to Kom Ombo Landmark Introduction

Your trip to Kom Ombo centers on a masterpiece of symmetry located just 48km north of Aswan. The Temple of Kom Ombo is an architectural anomaly, featuring two identical entrances, halls, and sanctuaries dedicated to Sobek, the crocodile god of fertility, and Haroeris, the falcon-headed Horus the Elder. This site is globally famous for its medical reliefs, which depict an advanced array of ancient surgical instruments. Adjacent to this dual sanctuary is the Crocodile Museum, which adds a fascinating layer to the experience with its collection of mummified crocodiles. The journey then reaches its peak at the Temple of Horus in Edfu. This colossal structure remains largely intact, offering a clear view of its sacred chambers and massive pylons. The wall descriptions here provide the most detailed account of the "Myth of Contending of Horus and Seth," a religious drama that defined the ancient Egyptian worldview.

Spectacular Highlights of the Trip to Kom Ombo

- Symmetrical Perfection: Admire the rare twin design of Kom Ombo, where every stone reflects the balance between two powerful deities.
- Ancient Medical Insight: Examine the detailed carvings of scalpels and forceps at Kom Ombo, a testament to the sophisticated science of the pharaohs.

- Sacred Mummies: Witness the remarkably preserved mummified crocodiles at the museum, once worshipped as living gods in the Nile.
- Breathtaking Preservation: Stand before the towering pylons of Edfu, which remain in such excellent condition they appear almost modern.
- Epic Mythology: Follow the narrative of the battle between Horus and Seth etched into the Edfu walls, an ancient drama of good versus evil.
- Riverside Beauty: Capture stunning photos of Kom Ombo's dramatic location, perched on a high dune overlooking the eternal Nile.

The Journey: A Detailed Story of the Trip to Kom Ombo

The story of your trip to Kom Ombo is a voyage through the spiritual landscape of the Nile (L). It begins in the early morning as the golden sun rises over Aswan, leading you north to a site where the crocodile god once ruled the waters. The narrative moves through the dual halls of Kom Ombo, where medicine and divinity meet, and into the museum of the sacred mummies. As the journey continues to Edfu, you move from a sanctuary of balance to a monument of victory, entering the massive gates of the falcon god's home. It is a day of transitions between the riverside breeze and the cool shadows of ancient shrines—concluding with a sense of awe as you return to Aswan, having walked through the very heart of Egyptian mythology.

Tour Itinerary

Departure and the Dual Sanctuary of Kom Ombo

Your trip to Kom Ombo begins with a prompt pickup from your hotel in Aswan at 7:00 AM by our professional team. You will travel north in a private deluxe air-conditioned vehicle, enjoying a scenic drive of approximately 48 kilometers. Upon arrival at the Temple of Kom Ombo, perched dramatically on the banks of the Nile, you will explore the only dual temple in Egypt. This unique structure is dedicated to both the crocodile god Sobek and the falcon god Haroeris, featuring a rare symmetrical design with two identical entrances, halls, and sanctuaries. Your expert Egyptologist will lead you to the famous medical reliefs, where you can examine ancient surgical instruments carved into the stone. The visit also includes the adjacent Crocodile Museum, where you will see a fascinating collection of mummified crocodiles that were once worshipped as sacred beings. Throughout this exploration, your guide will reveal the hidden stories behind the rare symmetry and the dual nature of Egyptian worship.

The Legend of Horus: Edfu Temple and Return to Aswan

After uncovering the secrets of Kom Ombo, your trip to Kom Ombo continues for an approximate one-hour drive further north to the city of Edfu. Arriving around 11:00 AM, you will stand before the Temple of Horus, one of the largest and best-preserved Ptolemaic temples in the world. As you enter through the towering pylons, your guide will help you decipher the detailed wall descriptions of the "Myth of Contending of Horus and Seth," explaining how this story was historically performed as a religious drama. You will walk through the grand halls and sacred chambers, marveling at the incredible state of preservation that makes this temple a highlight of Egyptian archaeology. Following the temple tour, you will enjoy a high-quality lunch at a local restaurant to refresh before the return journey. Throughout the road trip, free bottled water and soft drinks are provided in your private vehicle. The tour concludes with a comfortable transfer back to your hotel in Aswan, arriving approximately 10 hours after your initial departure with a complete understanding of these ancient wonders.
